ENERGY-EFFICIENT COMMUNITY PLANNING

Ontario Ministry of Energy

December 1979
Revised June 1980

The first edition of this bibliography was prepared for the Ministry of Energy in 1979 by Gina Coleman of Ryerson Polytechnical Institute and was revised and updated by Ann Hawkins in June, 1980. It lists source material relating to community planning and energy conservation at various technical levels. Books, proceedings, reports and articles are cited on topics such as energy conservation policy formulation, subdivision planning, site planning, house design, active and passive solar heating and design, district heating, public transit, car/van pooling, energy impact assessment, solar rights, cogeneration, integrated community energy systems, and planned unit development.
